His latest album, The Way It's Supposed to Happen, is out now on all streaming platforms.

LONG BIO

Some artists make music. Malibu Slimm lives it. Born and raised with deep roots in the Los Angeles area, Jonathan Slack – known to the world as Malibu Slimm – has been a storyteller, performer, and creative force since long before he ever stepped on a professional stage. Drawing from the vibrant cultural energy of Venice Beach, Hollywood Boulevard, and the streets of Southern California, Malibu Slimm began his professional performing career in 2007 and has been building an authentic, multi-dimensional artistic legacy ever since. His journey to forming Malibu Slimm & The Mystics is a story of friendship, faith, and divine timing. During a difficult period in his life, Jonathan found himself at a crossroads – and it was inside the walls of a church where everything began to come together. It was there he met DonRon, who served as a deacon at the congregation and quickly became one of his closest friends. Though the two had known each other since 2016, collaborating musically had never come up – they were business-minded friends who pushed each other forward in life. When Jonathan began envisioning a group, DonRon was the first person who came to mind. Patsy – a longtime friend of Jonathan's late mother – completed the circle. His mother, who passed on March 29, 2025, was a woman of character and grace, and Patsy embodied everything Jonathan admired about the people his mother kept close. Bringing her into the group felt not just natural, but honoring. The Mystics – anchored by DonRon and Patsy, with occasional performances by the gifted Butterfly – are not just backup singers. They are family. Malibu Slimm & The Mystics have graced stages across Southern California, performing at Venice Beach, Hollywood, Glendale, Long Beach, Santa Monica, and beyond. Their live show is an experience unlike any other – equal parts comedy, energy, and inspiration, leaving every audience member feeling like they can fight for their goals and never surrender no matter what life throws at them. In 2025, Malibu Slimm released his most personal and powerful project to date: The Way It's Supposed to Happen. The album is a declaration of faith and perseverance – a reminder that if you have a goal, you must stay focused on it no matter what it takes, because you never know which part of what you are going through is contributing to your ultimate success. The lead single, "Cha-Cha-Cha," is a commanding, infectious track that sets the tone for an album full of purpose-driven anthems. Additional standout tracks include "Smoke the Mic," "In Control," and "Constantin." Beyond music, Malibu Slimm is also the Founder and Director of Malibu Slimm Films LLC, an independent film and AI video production company based in Beverly Hills, California. He runs a nationally recognized 90-Day Film Production Curriculum, fiscally sponsored by From the Heart Foundation in partnership with Antelope Valley College, training the next generation of filmmakers from underserved communities. Malibu Slimm is not just an artist – he is a movement. His music, his film work, and his educational mission all flow from the same source: the unwavering belief that everything happens exactly the way it is supposed to happen.
